FIDELITY

What a busy and exciting couple of months it has been for Idaho Springs Elks Lodge #607! There has been a lot happening around our Lodge, and it is always great to see our members stepping up, volunteering, and helping keep our Lodge moving forward.

State Convention: The Colorado Elks Association State Convention was held September 10th through September 12th, 2026, and our lodge was proud to be a part of it.

One of the highlights for our Lodge was presenting GER Timothy Jager and the First Lady with a special gift, a circa-1920s photograph of our Lodge. It was a great way to share a little piece of Idaho Springs Elks history and show our appreciation for their service to the Elks.

I also want to give a big congratulations to PER Laura Allen for her continued hard work and dedication to our Lodge bulletin. Once again, Idaho Springs #607 is the proud holder of the State Traveling Trophy! Laura puts a tremendous amount of work into our bulletin, and this recognition is well deserved. Please be sure to thank Laura when you see her and let her know how much we appreciate everything she does.

We also witnessed the induction of our new Colorado Elks Association State President, Terry Gaber. Congratulations, Terry! We look forward to your upcoming visitation. The election for Third Vice President was also held, with Jim Keyser of Colorado Springs Elks Lodge #309 receiving the vote. Congratulations to Jim! Our lodge also had the opportunity to support a great cause at the State Convention. We presented our new State President with 31 one-gallon Ziplock bags full of pull tabs to benefit the Ronald McDonald House. This is another great example of how something small can turn into something meaningful when our members work together. I also had the opportunity to compete in the Jolly Corks Toast, and it was a lot of fun to participate. It was another great experience and a great opportunity to represent our Lodge.

Around Our Lodge: Back home, things have been just as busy! We recently recognized April Oberholser as our Elk of the Month for all of her hard work getting bingo and pull tabs back up and running. April has put in a tremendous amount of effort to get these activities going again, along with her new helpers. So, the next time you hit it big at bingo or pull tabs, remember April! It wouldn't be possible without her hard work and dedication. Please take a moment to thank her and all of those who have stepped up to help.

We also recognized Amy Tomlinson for all of her hard work on our front garden. Amy has put a lot of time and effort into making the front of our Lodge look beautiful. The next time you see Amy, be sure to tell her how great the front of the Lodge is looking!

We also recently inducted Jack Dixon as our Lecturing Knight. Congratulations, Jack! We are getting one step closer to having all of our officer seats filled, and it is wonderful to see members stepping up and becoming more involved in the leadership of our Lodge.

And, on top of everything else, we continue to initiate new members! Our Lodge continues to grow, and that is something we should all be proud of. Every new member brings new ideas, new energy, and another opportunity to make a difference in our community.

Hunting Season Is Here! Finally, a reminder that hunting season is upon us! If you know a hunter, please let them know that Idaho Springs Elks Lodge #607 wants their deer and elk hides for our Leather Program. Don't let those hides go to waste. Help us put them toward a great program that benefits our Veterans.

As always, I want to thank every member who has volunteered, donated, participated in events, or simply shown up to support our Lodge. There is a lot happening at our lodge, and that is because of all of you.

Let's keep the momentum going, keep supporting one another, and continue to make our Lodge and our community better.

Elks Care. Elks Share.

Fraternally Yours,
Nick Weichel, Exalted Ruler

From the Secretary....

Hello all and happy fall!

It's been an extremely busy few months and it's hard to believe we're in fall. Next up, the holidays!

We just finished our State Convention in Lone Tree where our new Grand Exalted Ruler attended. A few of us had the chance to meet him and his wife, Sandy. What a down-to-earth couple. I'm very excited to see what they offer our great organization throughout this year. Idaho Springs turned in 31 one-gallon bags of pop tops. We also were the all-around winner for the bulletin contest. Thank you to all that contributed to that and a special thank you to Laura for putting it all together. Those are both huge accomplishments. Keep up the good work!

We still have quite a few delinquents on our list. If you are, please pay your dues! If you pay now, you still have a decent chunk of time before the end of the Fraternal year when dues will be due again. Additionally, if you know of anyone who is a delinquent, please encourage them to become current. Plus, it's a good excuse to come into the social quarters and see what all is going on.

Speaking of social quarters, I just wanted to put out a rule's reminder about our member draw and Queen of Hearts game. For the member draw, please remember, you must come the day before, purchase something, & pay $1. Your number must be drawn the next day for you to win the pot. Additionally, you cannot pay and put someone else's name into the draw if they aren't present. For Queen of Hearts, please remember that you must have your tickets purchased by 6:45, NO EXECPTIONS. Please note that the House Committee has edited the rules to state that you must be present to win.

As always, don't hesitate to reach out if anyone has any questions or would like additional information on anything.

Gratefully,
Briana Reagon, Secretary

Brothers and Sisters,

We are now halfway through another fraternal year at Idaho Springs B.P.O.E. #607, and what a beautiful time of year it is. The leaves are beginning to show their brightest yellow, and around the lodge, I'm seeing something just as encouraging—more new faces and more members getting involved than ever before.

I have been spending more time around our lodge, and it has been wonderful to see the energy and fellowship that come from having our members together. One of the things I have especially enjoyed is helping introduce new members to our lodge and to the Elks.

Al Gurule has been a tremendous help with our new-member orientations, and I truly appreciate his time and support. Just last night, I had the pleasure of giving three new candidates a tour of our lodge and talking with them about the Order of Elks. We will initiate these new members on the fourth Tuesday of September, and I hope many of you will come out and share this special evening with them.

Initiation is something worth remembering.

I was initiated into the Elks in Evergreen, Colorado, 13 years ago. At the time, I'm afraid I could barely remember the words I heard on that lodge room floor. But after five years of serving as an officer and becoming more involved in the work of our lodge, I have developed a much deeper understanding of those words and what our obligation truly means. Today, I can recite most of them from memory—and more importantly, I understand why they matter.

So I encourage every one of our members to renew their obligation with us. Come to an initiation. Watch a new member take those same first steps that each of us once took. Take a moment to remember why you joined and what being an Elk means to you.

When you stand together in our lodge, I hope you can feel that same sense of worth, protection, pride, and vitality that you feel when you see Old Glory flying in the wind. Our flag represents the protection we are fortunate to have and stands as a testament to the victories and sacrifices that made our freedoms possible.

In much the same way, our lodge is strongest when its members stand together.

Don't just be a member who belongs—be a member who participates. Come through the doors, attend a meeting, help with a dinner, play a game. Bring a friend. Meet someone new. Find a place where you can contribute.

Our lodge is only as strong as the people who choose to be part of it.

I am grateful for the support I have received as your Leading Knight, and I hope that, with the continued support of our membership, I can have the opportunity to serve as your Exalted Ruler for the 2026–2027 fraternal year. Whatever role I have the opportunity to serve in, my goal is to continue building a lodge where our members feel welcome, valued, and proud to be part of #607.

And, of course, Cribbage and Euchre continue to be great card communities at the lodge. Thank you to everyone who continues to come out, play, laugh, and support these activities. The friendships built around those tables are exactly the kind of fellowship that makes a lodge special.

I look forward to seeing more of you around #607 in the months ahead.

Fraternally Yours,
Todd Russell, Leading Knight

Your Elk of the YEAR is..... Jason Tyree

Idaho Springs Elks Lodge #607 is proud to recognize Jason Tyree as our Elk of the Year!

Jason is someone who truly represents what it means to be an Elk. He has been there to help with just about every event at the Lodge, always willing to lend a hand wherever he is needed. Whether it's behind the grill, helping set up or clean up, serving meals, or simply stepping in to make sure things get done, Jason can always be counted on.

Throughout the year, Jason has volunteered his time for cookouts for our troops, the 4th of July celebrations, mining events, and our Friday night dinners, just to name a few. His willingness to give his time and energy has made a difference in so many of our events and has helped make Idaho Springs Elks Lodge #607 a stronger and more active part of our community.

Jason doesn't do it for recognition, he does it because he believes in the Elks and enjoys helping his fellow members and our community. His dedication, hard work, and willingness to jump in whenever needed are exactly what being an Elk is all about.

Jason, thank you for everything you do for Idaho Springs Elks Lodge #607. We truly appreciate your time, your hard work, and your commitment to the Lodge and the Elks.

So, the next time you see Jason around the Lodge, be sure to give him a big CONGRATULATIONS on being named the Idaho Springs Elks Lodge #607 Elk of the Year!

Congrats to Idaho Springs Elks 607 as they won the All Around Trophy for the best newsletter. Also, congrats to the Division winners: Div I-Aurora #1921, Div II-Longmont #1055, Div III-Brighton #1586 and Div V-Arvada #2278. Divisions are decided on membership numbers as of April 1. Congrats to Laura Allen, Editor and to all members that submit news to her. The All Around Trophy has been going on for at least 35 years.

The Great Lodge Squirrel Hunt:

If you've spent much time around Idaho Springs Lodge #607, you may have noticed that there's a little squirrel hiding somewhere around the lodge. No, we're not talking about the kind that runs through the trees—we're talking about our lodge squirrel!

The story goes back to our first district ritual competition in 2024, when we borrowed this squirrel from Westminster Lodge. Somewhere along the way, my ritual team adopted "Squirrel" as my nickname, and unfortunately for me, the name stuck!

We eventually sent a random letter back to Westminster, letting them know they could come get their squirrel. Their response? They refused to take him back!

So, rather than argue with Westminster, we decided to make him part of Lodge #607 tradition. And that's how the Great Lodge Squirrel Hunt was born.

The rules are simple: the squirrel is hidden somewhere on lodge property where he can be seen without moving, opening, or disturbing anything. If you spot him, you've found him! Take a picture before he gets moved to his next hiding place.

Charlie recently proved she has a sharp eye, finding the squirrel on Thursday, September 10th.

Charlie found him again. Apparently, Charlie has become our resident squirrel expert!

So the next time you're at Lodge #607, keep your eyes open. Look around, pay attention, and remember—you never know when that little squirrel might be watching you. If you find him, take a picture before he disappears again! 📷 📸

Happy hunting, Brothers and Sisters!

2026 Catch - A - Calf Update.... ELENA VOSTREJS

Wow, it has been a month. I started school in the week of my county fair so as you can imagine it has been very busy as always. I want to share with you a little about the fair and what's been going on with me instead of jumping straight into talking about my steer. The first show I exhibited at my county fair was the horse show. Blu, for some reason, would not get in the trailer, and so I ended up only taking Rue. She very surprisingly won Grand Champion Mare and acted very badly in the halter classes, then got her act together when it came to showmanship. It was I who messed up in showmanship. I forgot my hat, which was the biggest mistake I made, because she kept knocking it off my head, so I took it off in between classes and forgot to put it back on, so I got last, and it was my fault and not hers in the slightest.

Next, I showed my chapter's Mini Herefords, and my bull won the Reserve Grand Champion Breeding class, and my heifer won 3rd overall. I won Reserve Grand Champion Senior Showmanship with my heifer Bonnie. I think the main reason I got a reserve grand champion and not grand champion was that I answered my question wrong on where the chuck is located. I talked to the judge after the show, and she said I needed more intensity and that I am more laid back in the show ring which she said is personal preference, and that I am doing everything else really well, especially my interview part, even if I didn't know the answer to the questions. In all, I won around $610.00 which I plan to save towards buying my very own steer.

Now that I have recapped for you on what happened at the county fair aside from my steer, let's talk about Against the Odds! To be honest it has not been that good of a month. Within a span of 18 days, he lost 27 pounds, meaning his average daily gain is at -1.5, and it feels like nothing is working regarding his bloating issue. I keep saying in my letters that he has been improving, but honestly, I don't think he is. Right now, I have had him on Purina Alleviate, Baking soda, crushing up a cup of his bloat block in his feed, given him Durvet Bloat Treatment for 2 days, Therabloat on show day at my county fair, Gut candy for 1 day, have him on a three-day treatment of Probios, and have dosed him with C&D without tetanus, and Draxxin prescribed by Rick Leone.

It has been very hard because, at this rate, I am not sure if I am going to stay on budget. I am spending more on vet bills than I originally had planned, and I have cut him down to only one type of feed with a low percentage of protein, so that does save money on feed, I would suppose, but, is not ideal. I feel like there is a very slim chance of me winning the competition itself because his rate of gain is not going to be good, along with his feed conservation, and I am debating taking him to the State Fair because I don't want to make his condition worse by stressing him out. This means that he will not have a lot of experience in showmanship, giving me a disadvantage at Stock Show. I feel like I am at a loss right now, but I am going to keep trying my best to persevere through this issue.

On a good note, at my county fair, I was taught by Cassidy Scofield, a person who has over eight years of showing experience, how to fit and clip my steer. This has helped me work towards accomplishing one of my goals by gaining experience in clipping cattle. I have also been updating my recordbook regularly and have worked towards my third goal of showing my steer at least twice before the National Western Stock Show.

Speaking of which, he did show very well at my county fair. He walked very calmly, set up perfectly, and stayed set through the entire class. This was only an exhibition show, meaning the judge did not evaluate the Catch a Calfs. There was one other Catch a Calf at my county fair, and he acted very well with another calf in the ring with him. Other than the fact that he was bloated, the whole fair went great, and I am very proud of the way he acted in a completely different place.

This month has been filled with ups and downs, however, I am glad I get to gain experience in the things I have had to deal with earlier than later. Thank you for your continued support and belief in me through these challenges I am facing. I will keep you updated on his progress this next month and will hopefully maybe see you during the State Fair.

Thank you,

Violet "Elena" Vostrejs

Almost 100 years ago, following the completion of the Elks National Memorial and Headquarters, then-Grand Exalted Ruler John F. Malley dreamt of building "a more stately mansion...with a dome so vast that it will cover the entire nation." However, this mansion was not constructed of bricks and mortar—it was an idea.

Malley envisioned a "mighty army for the service of mankind" who would "extend help freely and perform their deeds with a pleasant smile."

The Elks National Foundation is the realization of Malley's dream.

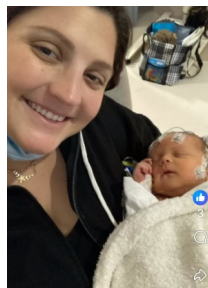

A registered 501(c)(3) public charity, we are a network of Elks, donors, volunteers, and program recipients who are passionate about making meaningful differences in their communities. Learn more about us at elks.org/enf.

Little things do add up, and aluminum pull tabs are a good example. Our Lodge gave 31 gallons zip lock bags this year at the State Convention.

Those small metal openers on pop and other cans weigh very little, but they are bringing hundreds of thousands of dollars a year to Ronald McDonald House Charities (RMHC). RMHC operates homes where families can stay while their children are treated for serious conditions at nearby hospitals. PER Loren Klimek met one of those families that benefited from the program and were extremely grateful.

Jeff and Jona Bates told Loren that Weston is a thriving 3 ½ year old in preschool. Children's Hospital has been a remarkable advocate for helping families in the time of need when you think there is no hope. The tabs at the Ronald McDonald house are a source of that hope. Jeff, Jona and their family were visiting from Southern Ohio. They wanted to let the Elks know how much they appreciated them.

ENF Month and Red Ribbon Week

October is a very important month in Elksdom, not least because it is Elks National Foundation Month, making it the perfect time to plan lodge events that support the ENF programs, including the ENF Community Investments Program, the veterans programs supported by the ENF, the ENF's student scholarship programs, and other youth programs, such as the Elks Hoop Shoot and the Elks National Drug Awareness Program. The best way to celebrate all of these initiatives is to donate to the ENF and make sure your lodge is taking part in these programs. This will give more members a chance to get involved and give back to the community.

This year's per-member goal for giving to the Elks National Foundation has been set at $5.25, and one of the easiest ways to make sure you are helping your lodge meet this goal is to join the ENF Fidelity Club and set up automatic monthly donations. To sign up for the ENF Fidelity Club, follow this link: enf.elks.org/recurring.

October also means Red Ribbon Week, which takes place from October 23 to 31. This is a great time to schedule a drug awareness event and to start looking for Enrique Camarena Award nominees, wearing and handing out red ribbons, distributing Elks National Drug Awareness Program literature, and arranging to have Elroy visit schools and veterans events in your community. Also, watch for the release of new episodes of Awkward Conversations, a series of educational videos produced by the Elks National Drug Awareness Program in conjunction with the US Drug Enforcement Administration.

Finally, as Sandy and I travel the country visiting lodges and signing membership cards, any donations we receive will be for the benefit of the Elks Veterans Memorial Restoration Trust and its support of the Elks National Memorial, which just turned one hundred years old. This way we can be sure it is well maintained for the next century! Ready Elks—Let's Go!

Fraternally and Sincerely,

Timothy F. Jaeger
